

U.S. Embassy Cairo

International Writer's Program

University of Iowa

Description:

The Public Affairs Section of the U.S. Embassy is pleased to announce the International Writer's Program (IWP). IWP is scheduled to take place at the University of Iowa tentatively from August 24, 2013 to November, 12, 2013 and is designated for established and emerging creative writers who have published at least one book (or whose work has appeared in significant publications over the past two years) and possess sufficient proficiency in English to benefit from the experience.

The objective of the program is to bring together a wide range of international and U.S. writers to examine current trends in literature including fiction, drama, poetry and screenwriting and to explore the creative process involved in writing. Participants will spend 10 weeks in residence at the University of Iowa in Iowa City presenting their work to local audiences, participating in university level workshops and working with translators. This aspect of the program will help these participants bring their countries' literary works to a wider audience and learn more about U.S. literature.

The 2013 program will feature increased opportunities for writers to participate in optional collaborative projects with artists from other disciplines including theater and dance. Further details about the program are available on the IWP website <http://iwp.uiowa.edu/>.
